To clarify and call to your participation, please find below some useful information:

This is an international publication composed by special issues of Open Access and each number will have an editor;

Any member of CIEO's Scientific Board can submit a proposal to be editor of an issue with a minimum of 4 and a maximum of 6 papers, consistent with the theme of the issue proposed. This proposal must include title, table of contents, deadline for paper submission (the proposal must be submitted until 3 months before the publication date), names and short biography of the authors (freely chosen by the editor);

Each proposal will be evaluated by the Editorial Board for acceptance and, if accepted, articulated with the existing proposals to define the publication date;

Regarding the edition contents, all manuscripts must be written in English and reviewed by a native speaker whose authors are responsible for;

The authors must cite in each paper at least three papers previously published in CIEO DP or JSOD series and follow the existing editorial norms;

External researchers/authors of CIEO can be included, if invited by the editor;

The dissemination of the new edition will be done in CIEO seminars scheduled (date and time) by the editor. This is an opportunity for researchers to present their scientific work to students (of bachelor, master or doctorate) and colleagues. This date must be scheduled with at least 3 weeks in advance so that CIEO can guarantee all the necessary materials for the timely dissemination of the event.
